Council adopts resolution for new TIF zone

SuperATV to have own development area

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Madison City Council approved a resolution Tuesday that will remove the SuperATV and former Armour Plastics plant sites from the North Madison Economic Development Area (NMEDA) and form a new Tax Incremental Finance (TIF) zone comprised specifically of those two properties.

The measure will allow the city to capture taxes on improvements to both properties over the next 25 years and reinvest that money to help finance their growth as well as other projects in that and other areas of the city.

And both areas are earmarked for tremendous growth and very soon.

SuperATV has already announced a 100,000- to 125,000-square-foot expansion at its plant at 2753 Michigan Road as well as a 100,000-square-foot innovation center at the Armour Plastics site at 1200 Clifty Drive.

Both projects have been announced by the company as it expands to go after a larger share of the all-terrain vehicle and golf cart aftermarket with an overall $60 to $70 million investment that will employ up to 300 additional workers when completed.

"This is a great opportunity for the city with continued investment in Madison and growth in jobs," Mayor Bob Courtney said of the company's plans.

Madison City Attorney Joe Jenner said the proposal, which previously received recommendation by the city's Plan

Downtown apothecary location closes after 170 years

Madison drug store, 4 in Kentucky now shuttered

BY BOB DEMAREE

For more than 170 years, there's been a pharmacy at 835 West Main Street in downtown Madison. But on Monday, Madison Apothecary closed its doors with prescription services being turned over to Walgreens. All that was left by Tuesday was a sign on the front door noting the closure and directing patrons to Walgreens' hilltop location.

Erik and Jennifer Grove, owners of Madison Apothecary, also owned three Bluegrass Drug Center locations in Bedford, Carrollton and Campbellsburg in Kentucky, and Beringer Drug Center in Warsaw, Kentucky, of which all are also closing. Last week, Jennifer Grove said closing the business was "a difficult decision to make."

Grove, who has owned and operated the apothecary since Jan. 1 2007, said the decision was also emotionally difficult since she and her husband had renovated and even resided in the building but the pharmaceutical sales market is challenging and difficult for small operations like theirs in today's corporate drug world where pharmaceutical companies and insurance companies gravitate toward major retailers and Online sales.

A sign announces the closure of Madison Apothecary in downtown Madison, the last independent pharmacy in Jefferson County and the only drug store in downtown Madison.

The pharmacy continued to fill prescriptions through Monday while reducing its investory of durable goods and other merchandise over the last several days and explaining the closure to customers who came in to pick up refills and purchase other items.

Madison Apothecary's website notes that the downtown Madison location was the oldest operating pharmacy in the State of Indiana.

The business, then known as Perry and Dunbar, was honored with Indiana's Century Award for long continuous service in 2005 while in its 153rd year as a drug store in Madison. Ken Dunbar, the owner at the time, said in the Dec. 18, 2005, edition of The Madison Courier that he believed M.H. Child had assumed ownership no later than 1850, and was operating as the West End Drug Store when it was taken over by the Heberhart family in 1889. Heberhart & Son Inc. operated a pharmacy in the western part of the building with a bicycle shop located next door on the eastern side.

In the 1920s, William Wetzel bought the drug store, and the name was changed to Wetzel's Drug Store. He later sold out to two employees, Bob Perry and Brooks Davis, in 1956 and it became Perry and Davis until Davis sold his share of the business to Dunbar in 1971. The business operated as Perry and

BPWS delays street closure requests for operational plans

BY BOB DEMAREE

With larger scale festival events — such as the Madison Regatta & Roostertail Music Festival and Madison Ribberfest — in mind, Madison Mayor Bob Courtney asked for operational plans as part of requests for street closures submitted at Tuesday's meeting of the Madison Board of Public Works and Safety.

Both Jake McCormick, vice president of Madison Regatta, and Erin Kindle, coordinator of Madison Ribberfest, came before the BPWS with street closure requests, but both were tabled until the group's next meeting on March 7 in order to better establish and review operational plans to go along with the requested street closures.

COVID-19 metrics improve in Switzerland, Trimble

Death toll climbs 3 in Jefferson, 1 in Carroll

BY BOB DEMAREE

COVID-19 infection numbers continue to decline in both Indiana and Kentucky with Switzerland and Trimble counties improving enough to move into an "Orange" metric for moderate spread.

At the same time Jefferson County reported three new deaths and Carroll County recorded one as the death toll locally climbed to 140 in Jefferson County and 233 throughout the four local counties.

In Jefferson County, the positivity rate is currently at 12.5% while Switzerland County is 16.7%. Meanwhile, Trimble County's positivity rate is 10.87% and Carroll County's is 13.25%. Even as Switzerland and Trimble counties move to "Orange" both Jefferson and Carroll counties remain in the "Red" for wide community spread. The positivity rate in the State of Indiana is now at 8.4% while Kentucky's is 12.18%.

While Jefferson County's death toll climbed to 140, Carroll County's hit 41. Trimble County is still at 35 deaths while Switzerland County has seen 17 deaths. Indiana recorded 63 new deaths on Wednesday for an overall total of 21,818 while Kentucky had 17 news deaths for an overall total of 13,664.

Since Friday, Jefferson County has had 18 new positive cases and 9,302 overall while Switzerland County has had just three new positive cases and 2,292 overall. Trimble County reported nine new positive cases and 2,125 overall while Carroll County had 17 new positive cases, and 3,408 overall. The State of Indiana reported 935 new positive cases on Wednesday for an overall total of 1,678,628 while Kentucky reported 3,300 new cases for an overall total of 1,267,592.

On Wednesday, masks became optional at Madison Consolidated Schools after a corporation-wide mask mandate of more than a year was lifted.

Superintendent Dr. Jeffrey Studebaker sent a letter to MCS families explaining that "As a district, we want to ensure we are doing all we can to continue to provide healthy learning environments for our youngest learners who are not vaccine eligible and our medically fragile students and staff."

Because of federal guidelines, masks will continue to be required on buses. Students who test positive for COVID-19 will follow current Indiana Department of Health guidelines by isolating for five days, then returning to school on day six and masking through day 10.

"We appreciate the efforts of everyone involved as we have navigated the last two years. As we progress through the next phase, we ask that everyone continues to monitor their student's health at home. If they are ill, keep them home, continue to encourage diligent personal hygiene and wash hands often so that we maintain healthy learning environments," Studebaker said.

Halcomb finally gets his Beat

CHARLIE ROHLFING
CHARLIE'S BEAT

This is actually my 173rd Charlie's Beat column, so it's fair to say I've interviewed the majority of local musicians. It's quite common when I go to shows now to look up on the stage and realize I've profiled every single player up there.

But there was one who kept eluding me, and I'm not sure how or why. Tim Halcomb is a mainstay of the Madison music scene. It's not like he was avoiding me. We've just missed each other these past three and a half years. But it's time to set things aright.

Tim lives down towards Louisville these days, but he's a Dupont native, and he's been an integral part of so many bands over the years, his influence is incalculable. I asked him if he could remember any of the bands, and it turns out he has a very good memory indeed.

BEAT

When he started his first band he didn't even have his driver's license yet. It was a bunch of Dupont and North Vernon boys, and their parents had to drive them to gigs. That band was called Rocky Mountain Social.

Then came (Are you ready?) Night Sky. Spitfire. Nickel Slick. City Kids. Spanky Lee. Rhino Ivory & the Monkey Paws. Mr. Popular. Rusty Bladen Band. Rick Clayton & the Lost Prophets. Danny Flanigan & the Rain Chorus. Greg Foresman Band. John Mann Band. 67 Sun. Those Damn Torpedoes. And, last but not least, Back-2-Mac.

It says alot about Tim's talent, dedication and easy-going personality when you realize several of those bands are still active and he's still an integral member. He's been with The Greg Foresman and Danny Flanigan bands for more than 30 years, and in fact, is just now finishing up a brand new album with the latter.

Back-2-Mac Facebook Page

He's especially excited about his involvement in 67 Sun, led by Robert Reynolds. "That's such a cool project," Tim explains. "Robert has built that band with all local talent, and the music we've been putting out is amazing.

"Actually, it was my long association with Danny Flanigan that led to the Fleetwood Mac tribute bands I've played in, first Damn the Torpedoes and now Back-2-Mac. There were a bunch of us who originally got together just to do a one-night fun show at the old Rudyard Kipling bar in Louisville. We played the Rumors album all the way through, plus a couple of encore songs.

"We quickly outgrew The Rudyard, and started having our once-a-year events at Headliner's Music Hall in Louisville. But the demand was so great, we had to start adding a few more shows.

"These days we do about 12 to 15 Mac shows a year, but we cluster them together over several long weekends. That's because some of our players are from out of town. Ray Rizzo, our drummer, lives in New York, and our "Christine McVie" player, Lauren Balthrop, hails from Nashville.

"Anyway, if you want to see what the Back-2-Mac excitement is all about, we'll be playing March 18th at Red Bicycle Hall. We've brought this show to The Bike a couple of times before and it always seems to sell out." Tickets are available now at RedBicycleHall.com.

Hot Tip of the Week

If you're not busy Thursday night, slip on down to the Elks Lodge on the far west end of town and listen to Amy Noel. The Elks is cozy, warm and friendly, so bring some friends and just hang out. Friday you have a classic "walking distance" trio of shows between Off Broadway, The Central, and Mad Paddle. And then Saturday you can add a fourth venue to that easily-walkable group, with Thomas Family Winery joining the mix. Speaking of Thomas Family Winery, you should make plans now for next Tuesday when they host their ever-popular Mardi Gras party. All the cool kids will be there!

Charlie Rohlfing is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd, anywhere live local music is happening.

CLOSES

Dunbar until Dunbar announced his retirement in December 2006 and sold to the Groves effective Jan. 1, 2007.

The pharmacy's owners have included two former Madison Mayors — Wetzel, who took over in March 1958 following the death of Charles Vaughn, and served until January 1960, and Davis, who served one term after being elected Mayor in the 1971 general election.

Although the apothecary was Madison's last downtown drug store — and the final independent drug store in Jefferson County — Madison does have several options for prescription purchases on the hilltop and in nearby Hanover. That's not the case in three of the Kentucky communities impacted by the closure.

The Bluegrass Drug Centers in Bedford and Campbellsburg, and the Beringer Drug Center in Warsaw, are the only pharmacies in those towns. The Bluegrass Drug Center in Carrollton was the final independent in Carroll County but major retailers and other pharmacies are located in Carrollton.

The Bedford pharmacy had operated as Morgan Drug Store from 1952 to 2011 when it was purchased by the Groves, becoming the first of the Bluegrass Drug Centers.

In a November edition of The Washington Post, writer Markian Hawryluk reported that independent pharmacies are struggling due to vertical integration among drug store chains, insurance companies and pharmaceutical benefit managers that gives them market power that community independent drug stores can't match.

A report from the University of Iowa's Rural Policy Research Institute reported that from 2003 to 2018, 1,231 of the nation's 7,624 independent rural pharmacies closed, leaving 630 communities with no independent or chain retail drug store, and an estimated 41 million Americans in drug store deserts without easy access to pharmacies.

"Operational plans would help us to be organized and thoughtful about what we're doing," said Courtney, noting that with the city's three biggest festivals — the Regatta, Ribberfest and Madison Chautauqua Festival of Art, there are far more components involved. He said the operational plans could alleviate the anxiety and stress during the events. And since it's February he said there's plenty of time to plan for the events that don't occur until summer.

"There's a lot of detail that we think might be happening behind the scenes, and all we're seeing right now is a street closure request with a lot of questions," Courtney noted.

Board member David Carlow added that when residents ask why streets are closed for events, city officials need to be able to provide answers.

Courtney emphasized the importance of organization as an effort to be certain there's no confusion about what needs must be met. He said knowing "what city services are going to be needed and when brings clarity and organization" so resources are applied more effectively when and where they are needed.

In other discussions:

• It was announced that for the first time in the event's history, the finish line for the Firecracker 10K will not be at Lytle Park in downtown Madison. Created by The Madison Courier and held in conjunction with the Madison Regatta since 1979 until sponsorship and operation was taken over in 2021 by the Madison Running Club, the race will still finish in downtown Madison but on Broadway Street.

The Board of Public Works and Safety approved street closings for the 10K Run/Walk to be held the morning of Saturday, July 2, with the route remaining the same except for the finish. Instead of running east on Third Street to West Street, they will instead follow east on Third and turn north onto Broadway Street with the finish line between Presbyterian Avenue and Fifth Street in the vicinity of the parking garage adjacent to River Terrace Health Campus.

• Approved street closings for the annual Madison Regatta Waterball Fight on the evening of Tuesday, June 28, on Main Street between Elm and Poplar streets.

• Due to confusion over the proposed route and required street closures for the Madison Ribberfest 5K Ribberrun that involves several streets between Second Street and Vaughn Drive, a resolution on that event tabled until the Board's March 7 meeting. The event is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 20.

• Approved a $6,875 contract with Lightning Bug Theatre of Lima, Ohio, for five movies to be shown in Bicentennial Park throughout the summer — "Jurassic Park" on May 27, "Madison" on June 29, "Encanto" on July 27, "Jungle Cruise" on Aug. 26 and "Hocus Pocus" on Sept. 30. Ashlyn White, the city's event coordinator, said four of the five movies will be on Fridays with the films coordinated with food trucks. "Madison" will be screened on Wednesday during Madison Regatta Week.

• Approved final PACE awards to Karen Conaway for downtown business Blue Wolf Vape at 109 East Main St. for replacing windows, awning and new paint for $7,500; to Paul and Bridget Davis at 708 East First St. for removing aluminum siding and tuck pointing the brick for $7,500; and to Gary Guarino at 1026 West Main St. for gutters and flooring work on front porch for $475. Additionally, a three-month extension until May 16 was provided to Jennifer Joas at 413 East Main St. for tuck pointing that cannot be done until warmer weather arrives.

• Nicole Schell, the city's director of planning, provided a demonstration of the iWorQ platform, now used by the city's planning department.

• Courtney reported on a drinking water infrastructure project, noting a public hearing for funding application for a Drinking Water Assistance Loan from the Indiana Finance Authority's State Revolving Fund, will take place at the March 8 meeting of Madison City Council.

Done living with daughter

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: Like so many of your readers, I never thought I'd be writing to you.

Almost seven years ago, I had to retire at age 61, due to recovering from extensive shoulder surgery and no longer being able to do my very physically demanding job. I was able to retire and draw Social Security early due to the death of my spouse five years earlier. My eldest child, my only daughter, graciously invited me to come live with her, because she knew that the amount of Social Security I was drawing was just not enough to live on. I let my mobile home go at a loss and moved in with her and her two sweet teenage daughters. The daughters are now both married, so it is just me, my daughter and our poodle.

What is happening now is hard to explain. My daughter has always been kind and loving and very respectful to me. However, in the past two years or so, she has become increasingly impatient and disrespectful. This seems to stem from me; I've become very lethargic and even depressed from all the illnesses that have piled up on me in the last couple of years. In 2020, I was unable to walk for six months because of a severely pinched sciatic nerve. Thank goodness that problem was resolved and I could walk again, but then it was something else, and something else, and it seems like it never ends. All this on top of diabetes and several other medical problems. There are days, a lot of them, where I just want to stay in bed. I find myself putting off showering because it is such a physical ordeal. My daughter has taken it on herself to tell me I "stink."

I know that these are probably common problems for elderly people and their children. But I've reached the point where I want to live by myself, if at all possible. I'm tired of getting on her nerves, and I'm tired of her insulting me. I just don't know how to handle the next step, except to start checking on low-income housing for the elderly.

But how should I handle telling my daughter? I'm afraid she'll lay the guilt trip on me to stay, and I'll cave in, and then it will start all over again. Is it so wrong to want to live in peace and quiet, and not be treated like a burden? — Want Peace and Quiet

Dear Peace and Quiet: It sounds like the past two years have taken a toll on your physical and mental health, and I'm sure the global pandemic did nothing to ease those anxieties.

You can certainly check out the low-income housing in your area, but it sounds like things used to be good between you and your daughter; perhaps there's a way to get back to that place.

First things first, schedule an appointment with your doctor to discuss the depressive episodes you have been experiencing, including your inability to get out of bed and bathe. I would also inquire about counseling. In the age of COVID-19, many health insurance companies are waiving copays for mental health services. With the help of a good therapist and, perhaps, antidepressant medication, you might feel less lethargic and more proactive about your own well-being.

Next, I would establish some firm boundaries with your daughter. Discuss how you will divide up responsibilities around the home and ground rules for communicating with each other respectfully.

When it comes down to it, whether you are living with your daughter or on your own, you need to take control of your mental health.

Itching for intimacy

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: My husband and I will be married two years in December. Prior to getting married, we had a "good" sex life. We discussed having a child of our own (I have three from a previous marriage), and he doesn't have any.

He's now in his 40s, and I'm almost 40. Very shortly after we got married, the sex fizzled out almost completely. Yes, we have had hormones tested, and his testosterone is very low. The doctors have all but said it will be almost impossible to have a baby. However, despite that, we cannot seem to get on the same page regarding sex.

He doesn't care, and that has made me feel very resentful, hurt, unwanted, ashamed, anxiety-ridden and jealous. I have brought it up, explaining my side very calmly and clearly. I've asked for physical intimacy repeatedly, however, I do not feel he wants me. If my kids didn't love him, I would have left already. What should I do? — No Confidence

Dear No Confidence: Your husband's hormones could be connected to his lack of libido, but your letter signifies to me that there may be more trouble going on behind the scenes than you've shared. Sex and your children's love for him aside, does your husband bring no positive qualities to your relationship and/or to the household that make him an otherwise valuable partner? Seek the help of a licensed therapist or couples counselor to work through your marital issues, both in and out of the bedroom.

Dear Annie: You missed the point in today's column with your advice to "Living for Today," who had been diagnosed with cancer and whose sister wanted to come visit with her.

She said she had cancer. Anyone who is dealing with cancer, terminal or not, needs calmness, serenity and peace of mind to heal. Whether it is chemo or the disease itself, the patient's emotional state is critical to the healing process.

This sister would probably want to stay with her, and when anyone is seriously ill, she does not need a houseguest. The sister may not be deliberately critical, but she could easily still open the scab.

When it becomes obvious which way the cancer is going would be the time for the sister to visit, but not in the house. She could rent a room elsewhere.

My mother went across the country to visit her brother when he was dying of cancer, stayed with them and added to all the stress they were already feeling. The best I can say for the visit was that at least he didn't hang in long. I am sure she hastened his death by her presence, and she stressed my aunt out at a time when she needed to pay all her attention to her husband.

Straightening out issues in a family is important, but it should not be done during a time when the patient's emotional state should be the main issue. — Sympathy Here

Dear Sympathy Here: Thank you for your valuable perspective. While I always advocate for making amends, especially with family, there are times when emotional peace and stability take priority.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Jeffersonville pulls away to beat Madison 76-33

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison stayed with Jeffersonville for a little over a quarter before the Red Devils pulled away for a dominating 76-33 win in boys basketball Tuesday in Jeffersonville.

The Cubs trailed only 19-13 late in the first quarter and were still down only 22-13 heading to the second when Jeffersonville turned on the afterburners. The Red Devils opened the second on an 11-0 run to push the margin to 20 and then led 44-20 at halftime. Madison trailed by 30 (63-33) after three quarters but failed to score in the fourth.

Jeffersonville senior Will Lovings Watt, who has verbally committed to Drake, scored 27 points on 9-of-17 shooting and added nine rebounds to lead the Red Devils. Brandon Rayzer-Moore added 15 points.

Jackson Falconberry paced Madison with 17 points and eight rebounds while Jackson Lynch had nine points.

Madison, now 6-16 on the season, closes out the regular season tonight at Switzerland County. The Cubs will then open the Class 3A Sectional at Salem next Wednesday when they take on Scottsburg.

Chloe Preocanin

Madison's James Schafer (30) battles with Jeffersonville defenders Caleb Thomas (23) and Isaiah Florence (3) during Tuesday's game at Jeff.

REBELS KNOCK OFF CHARLESTOWN

Southwestern closed out the regular season with a 78-58 victory at Charlestown on Tuesday.

The Rebels led 25-16 after the first quarter but held only a 35-27 lead at halftime. Southwestern then used a big third quarter to take control and cruise from there.

Senior Zach Cole scored 17 points to lead six Rebels in double figures. Parker Davis had 14 points, Mitch Mingione scored 12, Colton Cloud had 11, and Peyton Gwin and Jamison Lewis each scored 10.

Southwestern, now 15-7 on the season, will turn its sights on the IHSAA Class 2A Sectional Tournament, which it will host starting next Tuesday. The Rebels will take on Henryville in the opening round.

SHAWE FALLS AT MILAN

Milan outscored Shawe 16-4 in the fourth quarter to pull away to a 57-46 win in boys basketball Tuesday in Milan.

Shawe led 27-24 at halftime and 42-41 after three quarters but could not sustain that momentum to put the game away. The only points the Hilltoppers could muster in the final period were a pair of baskets by Jack Grote and Davis Grote as Milan went 7-for-11 from the free-throw line to ice the win.

"We played a better game tonight, but ran out of gas the last four to five minutes," Shawe coach Dan Hambrick said. "We got two good offensive performances from Philip (Kahn) and Jack (Grote) with 19 points and 17 points. We need that and then hopefully get one more in double figures. We are doing everything to gear up for sectional and I think we took a step in the right direction."

Shawe, now 8-11 overall on the season and 0-5 in the Ohio River Valley Conference, traveled to Rising Sun on Wednesday for its final game of the regular season. The Hilltoppers open the Class 1A Sectional at Edinburgh next Tuesday when they square off against West Washington in the opening round.

CAM's Carter reaches 2,000 career points in win over Horizon

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Clay Carter scored his 2,000th career point and Christian Academy of Madison pulled away to defeat Horizon Christian 66-49 in boys basketball Monday in Indianapolis.

Carter, a senior and CAM's all-time leading scorer, came into the game needing 15 points to reach the milestone and accomplished that in the first quarter when he scored 18 points as the Defenders jumped out to a 26-18 lead. He finished with 29 points in the win.

Carter, who now has 2,014 career points, is just the second high school basketball player in Jefferson County history to accomplish that feat. Southwestern's Steve Collier, who was Mr. Basketball in 1974, finished his career with 2,023 points.

The only other local high school basketball player to reach 2,000 career points is Trimble County's Marcia (Haney) Dunaway, who finished her career in 1981 with 2,035.

Carter is one of three players in CAM's short history to eclipse the 1,000-point mark, joining his brother Luke Carter and David Kummer. A 6-foot-1 point guard, Carter has been in contact with several colleges but has yet to make a decision on his future.

With Carter leading the way, the Defenders didn't trail after the first quarter en route to exacting a revenge for an earlier loss to Horizon. CAM led 35-23 at halftime and 53-41 after three quarters.

Along with Carter's 29 points, Elijah Kummer scored 16 points for the Defenders and Jaxon Miller had 13.

Christian Academy closes out the regular season with a 16-10 record, which includes the Southern Roads Conference championship. The Defenders will head to the ICSAA regionals this weekend in Columbus, Indiana, and then to Dayton, Tennessee, for a national tournament to wrap up the season.

Christian Academy of Madison senior Clay Carter topped the 2,000-point career mark on Monday in the Defenders' win over Horizon Christian.

Blind draw for boys basketball tourney held

BY THE COURIER STAFF

All four local teams drew into the opening round for the upcoming IHSAA Boys Basketball Sectional Tournaments which kick off next week.

The blind draw, which was announced on Sunday, had Madison, Southwestern, Shawe and Switzerland County each playing first-round games. All but Madison will play on the opening day of the tournament, Tuesday, March 1, with Madison playing the next night, Wednesday, March 2.

Southwestern enters the tournament seeking its second-straight sectional title and fourth in the past five seasons. Last year, the Rebels reached the regional championship game before falling to host Southridge.

The other three local schools will all be trying to break long championship droughts. Madison has not won a sectional title since 2007, although the Cubs have played in the sectional championship game each of the last two seasons. Shawe last won a title in 2011 and Switzerland County in 2013.

GIRLS 31ST DISTRICT

David Campbell

Trimble County girls basketball coach Kerrie Stewart talks to her team during the 31st District Tournament at Owen County on Monday.

Trimble offense never gets going in Gallatin loss

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

OWENTON, Ky. — Trimble County battled Gallatin County for 32 minutes but could never get over the hump, falling 39-30 in the opening round of the girls KHSAA 31st District Tournament at Owen County on Monday.

Trimble trailed at every quarter break and nothing the Raiders tried seemed to work as Gallatin stayed just far enough ahead to keep the game under control.

It was a disappointing end for what is likely coach Kerrie Stewart's final game as coach, but she was proud of her team's effort.

"As far as effort and the way we executed defensively, I'm very proud of them. They never quit and never gave up defensively," said Stewart, who has accepted the job as principal at Trimble County High School. "I feel like we played well enough to win, it was just a few things on our offensive end where we couldn't get as much movement as we wanted. But I cannot fault the effort but by any means."

Trimble never led in the game but it wasn't until the fourth quarter that Gallatin was able to get the lead into double-digits.

The Wildcats' Whitley Biddle scored 22 points to lead all scorers, but it was her presence in the paint defensively that changed the game. Time and time again, the Raiders tried to attack the rim, but each time they couldn't get around Biddle in order to get a clean shot.

No player was more hampered than sophomore Addison Edmondson, who was held scoreless in the first half. Edmondson was finally able to get going late in the game and her nine total points led the Raiders, but it was a sign of the lack of offense on Trimble's end.

"She wasn't scoring and she couldn't hit shots and it's like, don't don't worry about that, take care of getting everybody in the right spots and handling the ball," Stewart said of Edmondson's struggles. "We always need need to have her score but again, she brings so many other things to the game that she can't get all wrapped up in scoring and worry about that. We couldn't do without any one of our ladies on this team, regardless of how much they're scoring or what they're doing on any given night."

Trimble County trailed 19-17 early in the third quarter and just 29-22 entering the fourth and stayed within striking distance. A basket by Edmondson pulled the Raiders to within 36-30 with 1:19 to play, but they wouldn't score again. Biddle hit three free throws over two different trip to the line to seal the win.

Biddle was the only player in the game to reach double figures in scoring. Kennedy Dzuba added nine points for Gallatin while Chloe Brown scored five.

Along with Edmondson's nine points, Jolie Wilcoxson scored eight and Danielle Craig had seven.

Gallatin County, now 13-17 on the season, advanced to the semifinals where it played top seed Owen County on Wednesday. The winner will take on either Carroll County or Henry County in the championship on Friday.

Trimble ends a frustrating season with a 3-24 record but returns a nice core in which to build around. Other than Craig, every player who saw significant time on Monday will be back, including Edmondson and Wilcoxson who have multiple years still ahead of them.

"If you really think about it, we're a JV team playing a varsity schedule. Addison and Peyton (Butters) are both sophomores. You've got a freshman out there starting. So we feel very good about what this team is going to do next year," Stewart said. "They've got a very bright future ahead and I'm just very proud to have coached this group of young ladies and know that they're going do amazing things."

BOYS 31ST DISTRICT

Trimble County's Ethan Horn (5) races down the floor as Eminence's Josh Ruzanka (11) gives pursuit during the 31st District Tournament at Owen County on Tuesday.

Trimble collapses down the stretch; Eminence prevails

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

OWENTON, Ky. — It started off as a trickle and then became a flood and before you knew it, Eminence was pulling away for a stunning 81-67 win over Trimble County in the opening round of the boys 31st District Tournament Tuesday at Owen County.

With 1:10 remaining in the third quarter, Hunter Kelley hit a free throw to give Trimble County a 56-42 lead. Over the next nine minutes, little went right for the Raiders who were seemingly powerless to stop Eminence as the Warriors first chipped into the lead, then took control of the game.

When all was said and done, Eminence had closed the game on a 39-11 run to not only seize the win, but end a frustrating season for Trimble County.

"We got off track and it's kind of been a pattern this season where we'll play a little while and then everybody starts doing their own thing. We start doing our own thing and we fall apart," Trimble coach Marcus Mumphrey said. "For us to be as individually talented as we are and to underachieve the way we have, it's kind of depressing."

In the end, it was turnovers, missed free throws and poor defense that doomed the Raiders. But for three quarters, Trimble County was the team in control and seemed poised to roll into the tournament semifinals.

Trimble led only 14-12 after the first quarter but dominated the second, using a 12-0 run to build a 31-18 cushion with 2:26 left in the period. The Raiders took a 34-25 lead into halftime and continued to control the pace in the third, leading by double-digits virtually the entire way.

Cracks began to form in Trimble's lead late in the third. After Kelley's free throw pushed the margin to 14 with just over a minute left in the quarter, Eminence began rallying. Josh Ruzanka hit a bucket for the Warriors and Davontaye Saunders connected on a three-point play to pull Eminence to within eight.

Ethan Horn hit two free throws for Trimble to push the lead back to 10 with five seconds to go, but Saunders drilled a 3-pointer at the buzzer to send Eminence into the final period with all of the momentum.

Saunders opened the fourth with another trey and Ruzanka followed with a bucket to close the gap to three (58-55). Kelley stopped the run briefly with a free throw but it proved to be just a drop in the bucket. Adriene Bailey hit a shot and Ruzanka nailed a 3-pointer to give Eminence a 60-59 lead.

It was all downhill from there for Trimble as panic set in. The Raiders lost all semblance of an offense and long rebounds led to easy baskets in transition and Eminence picked up steam. The Warriors' run eventually reached 15-straight points as part of a larger 28-3 run that saw Eminence take control of the game.

James Thomas Wilcoxson ended Eminence's run with two free throws and a basket later, but the Warriors answered with six more points to essentially end the game.

Wilcoxson scored 26 points to lead all scorers and Horn added 20, but that scoring was negated by four Warriors in double-digits, led by Ruzanka with 24. Saunders scored 19 for Eminence, Abelardo Reza had 16 and Bailey scored 14.

Eminence, now 14-12 on the season, advances to the semifinals tonight where it will take on Gallatin County. The winner will face either Owen County or Henry County in the championship on Saturday.

Trimble ends the season with a 7-22 record and graduates three starters, Kelley, Tate Ogburn and Dalton Penick.

No. 22 Ohio State outlasts Indiana in OT

BY JACOB BENGE
ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Malaki Branham scored 27 points and No. 22 Ohio State rallied to beat Indiana 80-69 in overtime Monday night.

Indiana led by four with 2:47 to go in regulation, but E.J. Liddell forced a steal with 1:11 remaining and slammed home the tying dunk with six seconds left.

"We played as well as we could play it," Indiana coach Mike Woodson said. "We lost our man Liddell at the rim. He was able to dunk it and send it to overtime. That's probably the biggest possession of the game."

The Hoosiers jumped ahead by two early in overtime, but Jamari Wheeler hit a go-ahead 3-pointer with 2:58 left as Ohio State took the lead for good.

"A really, really gritty, emotional win," Buckeyes coach Chris Holtmann said. "I just thought our guys were phenomenal in the closing two or three minutes."

Branham, a freshman guard born in Columbus, finished 9 of 13 from the field and topped his season average by 16 points. Liddell had 16 points and Eugene Brown III scored 10 as Ohio State shot 48%.

The Buckeyes led by 10 with 12:06 remaining in the second half, but the Hoosiers used an 18-4 run to grab a 59-55 lead with 5:09 left.

Xavier Johnson led Indiana with 16 points, going 10 of 10 from the free-throw line. Trayce Jackson-Davis and Race Thompson added 13 points apiece, and Parker Stewart scored 11.

"We've got to get them over the hump," Woodson said. "I wish I had the magic pill to get them over the hump right now because we're right there."

The Buckeyes led 33-28 at halftime and pulled further ahead by making their first seven field goal attempts in the second half.

DEFENSE LEADS TO OFFENSE

Ohio State had five blocks and a steal in the second half, forcing a turnover that helped tie the game at the end of regulation.

In overtime, the Buckeyes prevented Indiana from grabbing any rebounds while snatching eight themselves. They closed the game on a 10-0 run while the Hoosiers missed their last seven shots.

FRESHMAN MATURITY

Over his first 10 games to start his collegiate career, Branham averaged 6.3 points. He's averaged 17 points in the 13 games since.

Branham knocked down a pair of free throws with 53 seconds left in regulation before assisting on the game-tying dunk by Liddell. The freshman scored four points in overtime.

"I just look for the right play," Branham said. "I'm not a guy that really forces up a bad shot."

BOYS 31ST DISTRICT

Henry takes control early to oust Carroll 82-52

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

OWENTON — Carroll County opened the 31st District Tournament on fire, hitting a pair of 3-pointers and taking an 8-5 lead less than three minutes into the game.

But the next six minutes were a disaster as Henry County scored 21-straight points to build an 18-point lead and pull away for an 82-52 win in the opening round of the tourney at Owen County on Wednesday.

Carroll entered the game having won five of its last seven games but couldn't sustain that level of play in its tournament opener.

"We didn't play our best today. But you've got to really give a lot of credit to (Kevin) Wix and (Sam) Royalty. They really played super well, super hard and super smart," said Carroll coach Doug Oak, speaking of Henry's top two players. "We just had a hard time with those two guys. We don't match up at all. I think our kids fought hard until the end. You know, it just wasn't going to be our night."

Royalty, a 6-foot-6 senior who will play football at Eastern Kentucky, dominated the game all night. It was Royalty who kick-started the Wildcats' big run, scoring 10 points over the final five minutes of the first quarter as Henry raced out to a 22-8 lead.

Wix, an athletic 6-foot-4 senior, did the rest, scoring 11 points in the second quarter as Henry County turned the game into a rout.

Both Wildcat stars scored 20 points on the night to lead all scorers.

Despite that dominance, the door was still open for Carroll County to pull off the upset. Trailing 42-26 early in the third quarter, the Panthers went on a small 9-2 run and pulled to within nine (44-35) with 5:06 left in the period.

But any thoughts of a comeback were quickly dashed.

Wix was fouled and hit both free throws to kickoff an 11-0 run as Henry County pulled ahead by 20 and never looked back.

Landon Isaacs scored 15 points to lead Carroll while Jaxon Hewitt hit four 3-pointers and scored 12 points and Kenyion Mumphrey had 10.

Henry County, now 11-17 on the season, will play top seeded Owen County in the 31st District semifinals tonight. The winner will play either Gallatin County or Eminence in the championship game on Saturday.

Carroll County ends the season with a 6-24 record but Oak considers that somewhat of a success. The Panthers began the year by losing their first 15 games but recovered to go 6-9 the rest of the way.

"I couldn't be prouder of the guys. When you look up and you're 0-15, it would have been very easy for guys to just quit and they never did," said Oak. "They kept plugging along and they kind of figured out how to play and how to play together and how they needed to play."

Czinano, Clark lead No. 21 Iowa over No. 10 Indiana 88-82

BY JOHN BOHNENKAMP
ASSOCIATED PRESS

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Iowa coach Lisa Bluder knew it was time to go to Monika Czinano.

"She's a walking bucket," Bluder said.

Czinano scored 31 points and had 10 rebounds, and Caitlin Clark added 29 points, as the 21st-ranked Hawkeyes defeated No. 10 Indiana 88-82 on Monday night.

Czinano, third in the nation in field-goal percentage, was 13 of 17 from the field. She had nine points in Iowa's 11-0 fourth-quarter run that gave the Hawkeyes a 76-70 lead.

"It's awesome when she's playing like that and dominating," Bluder said.

Czinano took advantage of Indiana's foul trouble — forwards Mackenzie Holmes and Kiandra Browne were two of the three Hoosiers who fouled out — and the screens set by her teammates to get open inside.

"We set a lot of pin-down screens, and that was something we talked about (in the second half)," Czinano said. "I was just really able to use those to my advantage. And things went in the hoop."

"She scores so quick," Indiana coach Teri Moren said. "She gets you deep. She's talented, there's no doubt about it. The fact that she can get you so deep is such a problem inside the halo. There's not a whole lot you can do because of her length and how accurate she is at the rim."

It was the second time in three days the Hawkeyes (18-7, 12-4 Big Ten) defeated the Hoosiers (19-6, 11-4), a schedule change caused by the postponement of the Jan. 23 game at Iowa because of COVID-19 issues within the Hoosiers.

Clark, the nation's leading scorer at 26.8 points per game, was 9 of 20 from the field, but went 9 of 9 in free throws. She also had eight rebounds and eight assists.

Iowa won 96-91 on Saturday, leading by as much as 24 points in the third quarter before the Hoosiers scored 42 fourth-quarter points to make the game close.

The Hoosiers carried that momentum into this game. Indiana built a 52-41 halftime lead, turning 14 Iowa turnovers into 23 points.

Iowa had seven turnovers during a 14-0 run that gave the Hoosiers a 48-36 lead with 2:34 to play in the second quarter.

"Our first half, we struggled with valuing the ball," Bluder said. "It's hard to win games when you're doing that."

The Hawkeyes had just seven turnovers in the second half, just two in the fourth quarter.

"We ran our offense," Clark said. "We weren't trying to force things. If we were going to win the game, we had to change the turnover part of it."

It was the fifth game in 10 days for the Hoosiers, who had three games postponed in January because of the COVID-19 issues.

"We've had four one-day preps," Moren said. "This league is too good to only be able to have the one-day preps. But it's the cards we've been dealt, and we're trying to make the most of them."

McKenna Warnock added 16 points for the Hawkeyes.

Grace Berger led Indiana with 22 points. Nicole Cardano-Hillary had 15 points. Holmes had 13 points. Ali Patberg and Chloe Moore-McNeil had 11.

Scherzer arrives in Porsche as MLB lockout talks resume

BY RONALD BLUM
AP BASEBALL WRITER

JUPITER, Fla. — New York Mets pitcher Max Scherzer arrived in a black Porsche and Yankees pitcher Gerrit Cole joined the talks Wednesday as baseball players and management met for a third straight day in an attempt to salvage opening day on March 31.

Max Scherzer

Free agent pitcher Andrew Miller and Yankees reliever Zack Britton also joined the negotiations on the 84th day of the lockout and were alongside Houston catcher Jason Castro. Those five are among the eight members of the union's executive subcommittee, which supervises collective bargaining.

Mets shortstop Francisco Lindor, another subcommitee member, was at the talks earlier in the week.

Texas infielder Marcus Semien and Boston pitcher James Paxton, the other two members, have not been seen during the talks at Roger Dean Stadium, the vacant spring training home of the Miami Marlins and St. Louis Cardinals.

Britton, Cole, Lindor, Paxton and Scherzer are represented by Scott Boras, baseball's most powerful agent.

With baseball mired in its ninth and second-longest work stoppage, less than a week remains until the sides reach what management says is a Monday deadline for a deal that would allow the season to start as scheduled. Players have not said whether they accept that timeframe, and there remains a sense both sides are awaiting more time pressure to force more major moves by the other.

There has been no movement on the biggest issue: luxury tax thresholds and rates.

Smashing debut: Freshman hits 5 HRs in opening series

BY ERIC OLSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tommy White pledged to play for North Carolina State in 2018 and his reputation as a power hitter preceded him.

It took him one game to live up to it.

The freshman first baseman homered five times in the Wolfpack's three-game sweep of Evansville. The first of his three in Friday's 24-6 win came on the second pitch of his first at-bat. His grand slam highlighted Saturday's 6-4 win, and he went deep again in Sunday's 7-0 win.

White was 9 for 14 with seven runs scored and 12 RBIs for the weekend. To celebrate, he called his grandparents and went out for a steak dinner with his parents before spending Sunday night trying to decompress.

"Some tears from pops and mom and my grandparents, and friends are calling me and saying how proud they are and that I've earned it," White said. "There's definitely work to come. We have a long season ahead so I'm not trying to get caught up in what I did."

White, from St. Pete Beach, Florida, went to NC State from IMG Academy and is physically mature beyond his years with his 6-foot-2, 242-pound frame and beard. He was a high school All-American and Under Armour Home Run Derby champion, and coach Elliott Avent said he's as good a freshman hitter as he's signed in 25 years at N.C. State.

White was projected to be picked in the first five rounds of last year's Major League Baseball draft, but he made it known he planned to stick to his longtime commitment to N.C. State unless a club could match the monetary figure he required to sign. He went undrafted and was happy to go to college.

White said he reflected on that as he went to bat for the first time Friday.

"This is everything I've ever dreamed of since I was 8 years old," he said. "I dreamed of playing D1 college baseball. Now that I was there, I was very nervous going into my first at-bat. My goal was to see a fastball I can drive and unload on one. I was just super nervous and my legs were kind of shaking in the box."

White sent Shane Gray's 1-0 fastball more than 400 feet over the center field wall for the first of three balls he muscled out of the deepest part of Doak Field.

The Possession of Methamphetamine, Possession of a Syringe and Maintaining a Common Nuisance charges are all felonies. All three were lodged in the Jefferson County Jail with Meadows and Jines being held on a $1,000 cash bond and Davis on a $500 cash bond.

Shelpman was assisted by MPD Captain Season Jackson and Patrol Officers Josh Nolan, Ben Flint and Graham Heffelfinger, along with Jefferson County Sheriff's Deputies Laura Pickel and Brian Muldoon.

Elsewhere, a Gallatin County, Kentucky, man who in December was charged with multiple counts of sex abuse involving a minor was arrested again on Friday as part of a child pornography investigation and lodged in the Carroll County Detention Center in Carrollton.

Michael Darby, 28, of Warsaw, was arrested after a Kentucky State Police Post 5 detective received information from another law enforcement agency in reference to a Gallatin County man possibly possessing illegal matter. The investigation provided sufficient information to obtain a search warrant for Darby's phone resulting in Darby being charged with 30 counts of Possession of Matter Portraying a Sexual Performance by a Minor Under 12.

Darby was previously charged with 10 counts of sex abuse with minor in December 2021 after KSP received a complaint from the Cabinet for Health and Family Services that Darby had allegedly abused three 12 year olds. Those charges, all Class C felonies punishable by 5-10 years in prison, resulted in Darby being arrested and lodged at the Carroll County Detention Center in Carrollton without bond.

Kentucky State Police Post 5 detectives are continuing the investigation.

Bates applauds staff for efforts during pandemic

BY BOB DEMAREE

State health commissioner Dr. Kristina Box announced that students who are exposed to COVID-19 no longer will have to quarantine.

With Indiana schools no longer having to conduct contact tracing or report COVID-19 cases to the Indiana Department of Health, Southwestern Superintendent Jeffrey Bates applauded nurses, administrators, teachers and staff for their work throughout the pandemic at Monday's Southwestern school board meeting.

Bates commended "our nurses, particularly, and the administrators, because people don't realize how hard it is to do that contact tracing, and what all you have to do to make sure you get that right, and they took that on and they did a fantastic job. So, hopefully they won't have to do that again, but I give them kudos."

Bates also commended the corporation's teachers "because when kids were quarantined they not only had to prepare lesson plans for the kids they had in the classroom, but they had to do extra work for those kids that were quarantined."

Last week, state health commissioner Dr. Kristina Box announced that students who are exposed to COVID-19 no longer will have to quarantine, regardless of their vaccination status or whether their schools require masks, which have been optional at Southwestern.

State health department guidelines for those testing positive now provide for isolating five days, then resuming normal activities on the sixth day if a person has been fever-free for 24 hours without the use of medication and as long as symptoms are showing improvement. Anyone who tests positive should wear a mask any time they are around others for a least 10 days, according to the state health department.

In other business, the school board:

- Approved the Food-2School Interlocal Purchasing Cooperative Agreement with this being the fourth year in which Southwestern Schools have participated with school corporation partners from 91 other school districts to leverage buying power on cafeteria food, supplies and services.
- Accepted the retirement of teachers Pamela Amick and Yvonna Thomas.

COUNCIL

Commission, essentially isolates SuperATV from other industrial developments ongoing in the NMEDA so that the family-owned company is tied to its own outcomes rather than the area as a whole. The move allows SuperATV to offset some of its new capital expenditures through tax benefits at "no risk to the city."

Money from the TIF zone will still be funneled through the city's Redevelopment Commission and it can be used for not just SuperATV and Armour Plastics growth but on other infrastructure that will benefit those companies, their neighbors as well as the city as a whole.

"The money does not have to stay there for redevelopment," Courtney said.

He said the process is somewhat lengthy and will involve other requests and approvals over the next several months as the project advances.

"There is a lot of work yet to be done" in term of financing … This just creates the area," Courtney said.

In other business:

• New Fourth District Council member Josh Schafer took the oath of office to begin serving the unexpired term of Katy Rampy, who resigned recently to become the city's clerk-treasurer.

• The council appointed Council member Dan Dattilo as its representative on the Jefferson Country 911 Central Dispatch Advisory Board.

• Heard a reminder that the Mayor's State of the City address will be at 6 p.m. on Thursday at the Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott at St. Michael's Avenue and Vaughn Drive. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. and the address will be streamed online on the city's YouTube page.

New Fourth District Madison Council member Joshua Schafer (left) makes a point while discussing an issue with Fifth District Council member Curtis Chatham at Tuesday night's meeting. Both council members saw movement after the recent resignation of Katie Rampy to become the city's clerk-treasurer. Schafer was elected by a Republican Caucus to serve Rampy's unexpired term and took his oath for council at Tuesday's meeting while Chatham was elected at a meeting earlier this month to fill Rampy's office of council president.
